Soviet Plan On Nuclear Tests Hailed

West Spokesman Says Offer Could Be Major Break

LONDON, June 17 (AP)—The new Soviet plan for an internationally supervised ban on nuclear tests was hailed by the West today as perhaps an important concession.

"It could be a major breakthrough of the disarmament log jam," said a U.S. spokesman at the U.N. talks here, "but then again maybe not."

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd underscored British optimism by showing up unexpectedly and presiding over the 122nd meeting of the five-power U.N. subcommittee on Disarmament.

Scheduled To Preside

The subcommittee is below Lloyd's own normal level of operation. Allan Noble, British minister of state and as such No. 2 to Lloyd, had been scheduled to preside at the meeting of delegates from the Soviet Union, Britain, France, the United States and Canada.

Lloyd explained his personal appearance by saying that because of the Soviet stand there now is ground for "a constructive examination of what should form the parts of a partial agreement."

British quarters left no doubt that they regard the sudden reversal of the Russian objection to any international inspection as a move of major importance.

The U.S. spokesman said Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin's acceptance of the principle of mutual inspection was a "very significant development." But there was a good deal of tempering of optimism in U.S. quarters.

"It is very important that the Russians, who still think any sort of inspection is unnecessary, should have agreed to allow it in a limited matter," the spokesman emphasized.

Are Other Problems

"But there are other very important problems, and questions involving complicated detail, before there could be a partial agreement on a first step toward disarmament."

The Soviet Union Friday proposed to halt nuclear tests for two or three years. International teams would be installed in Russia, the United States, Britain and in the Pacific to see that the ban was observed.

The West wants inspection extended to the manufacture of H-bombs and the stockpiling of fissionable material.

U. S. Delegate Harold E. Stassen said in a statement that the United States had made its position clear and was "prepared to move from that position toward that of the other delegations."

He did not elaborate. But it is known the United States has a major pronoun - ent to make. But it likely will not be presented this week. American proposals may come next week, and may be made piecemeal, over a number of subcommittee sessions.

Mamie In Hospital For 2nd Checkup In 4 Months

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower entered Walter Reed Army Hospital late today for a second "head-to-toe" physical check - up within four months. The White House called the visit "just routine" and said the First Lady is not ill.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference Mrs. Eisenhower expects to remain in the hospital for "several days."

She was last at Walter Reed late in February. At that time, Hagerty announced she would be there overnight, but she actually stayed on three or four days.

After the February checkup the White House pronounced the First Lady in good condition. Her physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said at the time when questioned about the longer stay than had been expected, that Mrs. Eisenhower liked to take it easy and that he encouraged her to do so.

The First Lady is 60.

In announcing this latest visit to Walter Reed, Hagerty said Mrs. Eisenhower would get a "complete head-to-toe checkup," adding that both the First Lady and the President make it a practice to have hospital medical examinations periodically.

Snyder had said Mrs. Eisenhower had rheumatic fever as a girl without the ailment ever having been diagnosed at the time. That left her with what Snyder has termed a slight heart condition—a murmur which the doctors keep tab on.

Fignole Backers Threaten To Burn Capital

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, June 17 (AP)—Worker and peasant supporters of ousted President Daniel Fignole threatened tonight to burn Haiti's capital city unless Fignole is allowed to return from exile. He was hustled off to New York last Friday.

Parts of Port Au Prince were set afire and wrecked in weekend clashes that resulted in death for more than 50 Haitians.

The military ruling group that ousted Fignole has refused to consider any idea of letting him come back.

It answered the new threats from Fignole's mass following with strategic placement of troops and police under orders to shoot down anyone trying to start a fire or wreck essential services.

The military junta made clear it was ready to administer a repeat dose of the armed power that put down Fignole's partisans in riots Saturday night and Sunday.

At least 50 persons were killed and 200 injured after a wave of stoning, looting and burning set off by rumors that Fignole had been executed.

For hours the government was unable to get across to the country the news that Fignole had gone by plane to Miami and New York.

On his arrival with his wife in New York Saturday, Fignole said he still considered himself a candidate "if free presidential elections are held in Haiti." They left behind them seven "children" ranging in age from 2 to 13.

Fignole told reporters in New York today that four army officers arrested him at gunpoint. He said his wife had been lured from home under the pretext that he needed her at the palace. Then they were taken to the airport and put aboard a Haitian army plane for the United States, he said.

Heat Breaks Record

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—The temperature hit 93 degrees today, breaking a 66-year-old New York record for the date. It was the third successive day of 90-degree temperatures, the highest mark of the year and the highest on June 17 since the record 92.4 of 1891.

East Germans Given Pledge Of Freedom

Bonfires Denote Anniversary Of Big Uprising In 1953

BERLIN, June 17 (AP)—The restive people of Communist East Germany, who four years ago today showed the Poles and Hungarians how to revolt against Soviet rule, got new U.S. and West German pledges of eventual liberation, on this anniversary.

Huge bonfires blazed along the satellite nation's borders to tell the East Germans the West had not forgotten the heroic but abortive June 17 uprising in 1953.

Inside East Germany Red police barred demonstrations. But June 17 was remembered—especially by the thousands of workers who vainly fought with rocks against Russian tanks. And also on university and high school campuses which today seethe with agitation against the Soviet regime.

Dulles Sends Message

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles sent an anniversary message pledging the United States and its partners "to intensify our efforts to restore Germany as a free and united state."

"Four years ago today the inhabitants of the Soviet zone of Germany plainly demonstrated their legitimate desire for freedom," he wrote. "Recently we have seen an expression of the same wish by the heroic Hungarian people. Unfortunately we have also seen these efforts brutally repressed by the intervention of the Soviet Union."

"The desire of mankind to live in freedom and peace constitutes a force which cannot be resisted," Dulles' message was addressed to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and broadcast over East Germany by the powerful transmitters of RIAS of Berlin.

Adenauer led the West German nation in dedication to the fight for German unity and in solemn memorial services for the June 17 freedom fighters.

In isolated West Berlin thousands of citizens demonstrated for East German liberation as the Freedom Bell tolled. Leaders laid wreaths on the June 17 memorial, a massive statue depicting a man shaking off a yoke.

It was in East Berlin that the June 17 revolt first exploded. It spread like wildfire to other big industrial centers and was not put down until the overwhelmed East German Reds called in Russian tanks. The uprising took the free world by surprise and demonstrated for the first time that a satellite people could rise.

Japanese Lady Becomes Citizen

BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP)—A little old Japanese lady spoke two of the few words she knows in English, "I will," and became a citizen today of the United States after 52 years as a resident.

Her only son, a captain in the U.S. Army, had to interpret the oath of citizenship before Mrs. Motoye Sawada, could subscribe to it.

The citizenship laws made Mrs. Sawada wait more than half a century and then made it easier for her by so doing.

Until 1954, her race barred her from seeking citizenship. The law was changed three years ago by what has become known as the McCarran-Walter Act.

Applicants are required to be able to read, write and speak English, except any who were living in the U.S. for more than 20 years and more than 50 years old in 1952.

Mrs. Sawada qualified easily. She came to the U.S. 47 years before that and was 69 years old five years ago.

Heat Wave Hits Electrical Power

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—Shavers, sewing machines and other small electric units were slowed down today by the hot weather's drain on power generation in Chicago.

Increased use of air-conditioning equipment dropped household voltage from the standard of 120 volts to 113, Commonwealth Edison Co. reported.

The mercury was in the 90s for the second straight day.

Civil Rights Vote Delayed

Bill's Passage Without Change Is Seen Today

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The House today tentatively approved a civil rights bill without a jury trial provision. A formal vote on passage was put off until tomorrow, however.

Ending several days of debate as a committee of the whole, the House membership recommended that the House formally send the administration-backed measure to the Senate in substantially the form it was approved by the House Judiciary Committee.

Southern Democrats and a score or more Republicans were beaten in every effort to make major alterations in the bill. They lost three times in their fight to guarantee a jury trial for any person accused of contempt of federal court injunctions in civil rights cases.

On Tentative Basis

All the voting thus far has been on a tentative basis and without roll calls. Roll-call votes on the jury trial amendment and on final passage of the bill were scheduled for tomorrow.

When debate began today it looked as though a decision could be reached tonight on the controversial legislation. The vote was put over until tomorrow after Southern foes of the bill threatened to force an overnight delay by parliamentary means if necessary.

Meanwhile the House defeated on a standing vote of 163-141 a proposal by Rep. Smith (D-Va.) to write into the measure a statement of congressional policy favoring trial by jury for persons charged with contempt of court after violations of civil rights injunctions.

Same Proposal

Supporters of civil rights legislation contended it was substantially the same proposal as that which was voted down 199-167 in a key test of the legislation Friday. They argued both proposals would have drained the bill's power to enforce observance of voting rights by court injunction.

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) protested in vain that "the right to vote is no good if you can't get a trial by jury."

Another amendment by Rep. Ray (R-N.Y.) to require the use of state court remedies in civil rights cases before any federal action is taken was defeated 146-127.

Pinball Games Subject To Tax

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The Supreme Court today ruled pinball machines on which winning players receive cash, premiums or tokens are gambling devices subject to $250 federal tax on each.

Justice Black delivered the 8-1 ruling. Justice Douglas dissented. The ruling applied specifically to Walter Korpan, who was fined $750 for failing to pay the $250 tax on several "coin-operated gaming devices" on premises known as Korpan's Landing at Fox Lake, Ill.

Korpan had paid $10 federal tax on each machine, contending it was an amusement device under the tax laws. The U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago set aside Korpan's conviction, deciding that Congress intended to exclude pinball machines from the category of "so-called 'slot' machines."

Appealing to the high tribunal, the Justice Department said the decision could cost the government 3½ million dollars a year in revenue.

Demos Assail Ike's Handling Of Stassen

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Two Democrats accused President Eisenhower today of having dealt American prestige "irreparable" damage by his treatment of disarmament Ambassador Harold E. Stassen.

The criticism came during the last stages of debate on U.S. participation in the International Atomic Energy Agency.

Most of the Senate speakers had only praise for the treaty for American membership in the agency to distribute fissionable materials for peacetime uses, and ratification seemed assured of more than the necessary two-thirds votes. A vote was put off until tomorrow.

The speakers took occasion to sound off with demands that Eisenhower seek a multinational agreement to suspend all tests of hydrogen weapons over one megaton in strength.

As Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) led the argument for this proposal, Sen. Pastore (D-R.I.) voiced the charge that American prestige has been damaged by the handling of Stassen.

The President, Pastore said, "removed from his own office the prestige of his personal representative in the personality of Harold Stassen and relegated him to an inferior position in the State Department."

Pastore asked Mansfield if he did not think "American leadership and its activities in this field were given a severe blow" by this act.

"Yes, I do," Mansfield replied. "Mr. Stassen has been undermined all the way through. He does not know whether he is coming or going."

Stassen has been conducting disarmament negotiations in London with representatives of Russia, France, Great Britain and Canada.

$133 Million Offered To Post Office Dept.

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—A House Appropriations subcommittee reportedly decided today to recommend that the Post Office Department be given $133 million dollars of the 149½ million asked in extra funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Its action will be reported to the full committee on Friday.

A committee member said the cut of 16½ million dollars from the request should not require any curtailment in postal service.

When Postmaster General Sumnerfield asked for the extra funds, he said there would have to be curtailments if he didn't get the money.

Jordan To Close Egyptian Embassy

CAIRO, June 17 (AP)—Jordan's relations with Egypt and Syria grew more strained today.

Jordanian officials prepared to close down the embassy here within two days in retaliation for the expulsion of Jordan's ambassador to Egypt last week.

Heat Sizzles East Portion Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Summery heat sizzled much of the eastern half of the nation Monday. The mass rush for air-conditioning relief caused power shortages in New York and Chicago.

Flash floods, triggered by torrential weekend rains, swirled across parts of Minnesota, South Dakota, Kansas and Nebraska. At least four persons drowned and one was missing. A Milwaukee Road passenger train was derailed in western Minnesota, injuring three crewmen and eight passengers.

Thundershowers broke out in the colliding cool and hot air masses over the midcontinent. Temperatures extremes ranged from an over night low of 25 degrees at Bryce Canyon, Utah to afternoon readings in the 90s throughout much of the East and Midwest.

Demands for electric power soared as the mercury hit the 90-degree mark in New York City for the third straight day and pushed into the 90s in Chicago for the second day running.

Extensive use of air-conditioning equipment and refrigeration was partly responsible for the power shortage in both cities.

Lights were dimmed in some New York offices, elevator service was cut in some skyscrapers and some homes went briefly without power. Rockefeller Center, a chief tourist attraction, shut off display lighting and cut elevator service.

The flipon of air conditioners in Chicago dropped household voltage from the standard 120 to 113 volts. Commonwealth Edison Co., which is repairing equipment that produces 400,000 kilowatts, drew extra power from utilities in Wisconsin and downstate Illinois to correct the situation.

Hundreds of persons were left homeless in southwestern Minnesota and eastern South Dakota after weekend rains dumped up to 10½ inches on the area. National Guardsmen were called out to help in Yankton, Marshall and Sioux Falls, S.D.

A Milwaukee Road railroad train, running nine hours late from Aberdeen, S.D., to Minneapolis, because of rain - caused track damage, hit a washout and was derailed near Montevideo in western Minnesota. The injured were hospitalized at Montevideo.

Three persons drowned Sunday night near Flandreau, S.D., when their car plunged into the Big Sioux River at a bridge washout. A transient who sought refuge in the jail at Ellis in central Kansas drowned when a wall of flood water hit the building. A Willman, Minn., truck driver was missing and feared drowned near Clara City, Minn.

Wholesale Price Of Cigarets Up

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Several major tobacco companies today raised the wholesale price of their nonfilter cigarette brands 35 cents per thousand, effective immediately. Company officials attributed the increase to a general rise in costs.

American Tobacco Co. was the first to announce the boost, and was followed quickly by Liggett & Myers and Philip Morris Inc. The hike amounts to about one cent per pack at retail.

American Tobacco Co. (Lucky Strike, Pall Mall, Herbert Taylor) said it had no comment on the reason for the increase.

New Trials Are Ordered For 9 Others

Abstract Doctrine No Crime Under '40 Anti-Communist Act

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The Supreme Court today ordered freedom for five of 14 California Communist leaders convicted under the Smith Act and granted new trials to the other nine.

The court ruled that mere "preaching abstractly" the forcible overthrow of the government is no crime under the 1940 Anti-Communist Act.

All 14 had been convicted in August 1952, after a six - month trial of plotting to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the U.S. government. U.S. Dist. Court Judge William C. Mathes in Los Angeles sentenced each to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Fails To Distinguish

The high tribunal held that the judge failed in instructing the jury to properly "distinguish between advocacy of forcible overthrow as an abstract doctrine and advocacy of action to that end."

Justice Harlan speaking for the court, said five of the defendants should be freed because the evidence against them "is so clearly insufficient that their acquittal should be ordered."

The court split 6-1 in freeing the five outright but Justices Black and Douglas, in a concurring opinion, said they thought all 14 should have been freed.

Justice Clark, the lone outright dissenter, went along with the Court of Appeals for the 9th district, the District Court and the jury that the evidence against all 14 defendants "showed guilt beyond a reasonable doubt."

Agree With Harlan

Chief Justice Warren and Justice Frankfurter agreed without reservation with Harlan. Justice Burton concurred except as to the court's interpretation of the term "organize" as used in the Smith Act.

On Capitol Hill, Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), author of the Smith Act, commented on the court's decision:

"I am not surprised. I do not recall any case decided by the present court that the Communists have lost."

Harlan's decision on the California Communists—which may have a sweeping bearing on future Smith Act prosecutions held the U.S. Communist party came into being in 1945 when it was reconstituted after being known for a time as the Communist Political Assn.

Accordingly, he said, since the indictment was not returned until 1951, the three-year statute of limitations had run on the "organizing" charge against the defendants.

All 14 Smith Act defendants were accused not only of conspiring to advocate and teach overthrow of the government by force and violence, but also with conspiracy to organize the Communist party in this country.

U.S. To Roll Out Red Carpet For Japan's Kishi

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—At last, we taxpayers own a red carpet of our very own, to be used for rolling out purposes whenever foreign dignitaries arrive.

The new red carpet will be used for the first time Wednesday, for the Prime Minister of Japan, Nobusuke Kishi.

Two especially picked soldiers from a ceremonial battalion will be at the airport for the carpet detail, and they're bound to do a good job because they'll take a practice roll shortly before the President's plane, bearing Kishi, comes in.

A lot of big shots come visiting us nowadays. And one little known fact is that, up to now, this rich, powerful country didn't have a portable red carpet it could call its own.

The State Department rented a carpet, from a firm in New Jersey each time it needed one, which was frequently.

Finally someone at the State Department figured out that the carpet would pay for itself within the space of six or eight dignitaries.

So negotiations were begun with a local rug salesman. The deal was completed, and the carpet, 4½ feet wide and 30 feet long of the finest Wilton weave construction, was turned out by Archibald.

Personal Income Sets New Record In United States

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Personal income in the United States reached an adjusted annual rate of 340½ billion dollars during May.

A record, this figure out as almost $2,000 a year for each of the country's 171 million inhabitants.

The Commerce Department, in its monthly survey released today, found personal income on a seasonally adjusted basis jumped a billion dollars over April, and 17½ billion over May, 1956.

The May rate was four billion dollars higher than for the first three months of this year.

Wages and salaries were up by a billion dollars, property income—dividends, interest and business income—by a bit less than a billion, and transfer payments by about two billion. Transfer payments consist mostly of veterans' payments and Social Security benefits.

The Commerce Department estimates of personal income include wages and salaries, the net income of proprietorships and partnerships—farm and nonfarm—as well as dividends and interest, net rents received by landlords, and other types of individual income.

The two-billion-dollar rise in government transfer payments reflected a sharp increase all spring as farm operators and other groups became eligible in large numbers to receive old-age benefits. These groups came under the Social Security law in 1955.

A side factor to the steepness of the recent increase in recent monthly payments is the fact that the first Social Security checks to new claimants usually cover several months' payments.

The Commerce Department said most other components of personal income were relatively stable from April to May. Wages and salaries, after seasonal adjustment, were little changed as moderate gains in nonmanufacturing industries offset declines in manufacturing.

Payroll increases in nonmanufacturing industries reflected higher employment and higher average earnings. The increases were noted in trade, construction, finance and state and local governments.

About 60 per cent of the decline in manufacturing payrolls resulted from fewer hours of work and the remaining 40 per cent from lower employment. The principal declines were in transportation equipment, nonelectrical machinery and fabricated metals. Most other industries remained unchanged or showed slight drops. Electrical machinery, chemicals and tobacco were somewhat higher.

Total agriculture income, on a seasonally adjusted annual basis, remained stable from April through May at $15,300,000,000. This represented an increase of 400 million dollars over April 1956.

Total agricultural income for the first five months of 1957 was also at an annual rate of $15,300,000,000, an increase of 200 million dollars over the first five months of 1956.

Edith Hough Indicted For Murder By Jury

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Chic secretary Edith Louise Hough was indicted for first degree murder today in the "psychological aggression" shooting of her ex-prince former fiancé. But a government psychiatrist reported she is not now competent to stand trial.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Conliff said he will seek a court order tomorrow sending the 41-year-old graying blonde to a mental hospital for the 60-day examination provided by law in such cases.

Miss Hough is accused of shooting Zorab Abdusheli, 44, a former Georgian prince who was working here as a Voice of America announcer-translator, six times with a .25 caliber pistol in her apartment on Memorial Day morning. Police quoted the slender, college-educated private secretary as saying she killed Abdusheli after he became "psychologically aggressive" toward her.

The first degree murder indictment, returned by a federal grand jury, could mean the death penalty for Miss Hough.

No woman has been put to death in the District of Columbia, however, since Mary Surratt was hanged for complicity in the assassination of President Lincoln.

The report by Dr. William G. Cushman on Miss Hough's mental condition raised the possibility she may never have to stand trial. The psychiatrist said he does not believe Miss Hough has a proper understanding of the charge against her.

Supplies Of Newsprint Expected To Be Larger

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The Commerce Department reported today that starting this year, world supplies of newsprint are expected to be bigger than demand.

H. B. McCoy, head of the Commerce Department's Business and Defense Services Administration, gave this report in presenting a House commerce subcommittee with an extensive study on prospective pulp, paper and board supply and demand.

Chairman Peter F. Mack (D-Ill.) and other subcommittee members listened with interest to McCoy's statement that pulp supplies do not appear to be a problem now—a situation "different than it was a few short years ago" when shortages were of concern.

McCoy and his aides took note of increasing uses of forest materials, growing domestic and foreign production, the big rise in pine tree growth in the South and tropical forests still untapped.

In presenting highlights from the Commerce Department study, described as the first of its kind prepared for public use, McCoy said:

1. "World newsprint demand in 1959 is expected to total 14,900,000 tons compared with a production potential of 16,300,000 tons. Beginning in 1957 there is expected to be a growing cushion of supply in excess of world demand."

New Trials

tried again include Philip M. (Slim) Connelly, editor of the Los Angeles edition of the Communist newspaper "People's World"; Henry Steinberg, Los Angeles County party legislative director; Mrs. Rose Chern Kuznitz, executive secretary of the Los Angeles Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born; Al Richmond, editor of the "People's World" and Frank E. Spector, Los Angeles County industrial organizer.

Others Due Retrial

The others convicted and due for retrial are:

Mrs. Dorothy Healey Connelly, wife of Philip Connelly and former chairman of the Los Angeles County party; Mrs. Oleta O'Connor Yates, San Francisco, northern California party secretary; Mrs. Loretta Starvus Stack, San Francisco, northern California organizational secretary; Ernest Otto Fox, San Francisco waterfront organizer; Carl Rude Lambert, San Francisco, state security review chairman; Albert Jason Lima, Oakland, East Bay party chairman; Frank Carlson, Los Angeles County party Defense Committee chairman, and Ben Dobbs, Los Angeles County organizational secretary.

2. "U.S. newsprint consumption demand is expected to rise to 8,250,000 tons in 1965, compared with 6,800,000 tons in 1956, a gain of 21.3 per cent. For 1957, 1958 and 1959 a growing margin of supply over demand is indicated. During these 3 years U.S. newsprint capacity increases are expected to more than meet the growth in domestic demand, with the result that newsprint imports into the United States may decline in this period."

3. "Exports of newsprint by the United States are expected to level off at 150,000 tons annually between now and 1959 with the traditional markets of Latin America and the Philippines taking most of this tonnage."

4. "Important requirements between now and 1959 may decline gradually to under five million tons by 1959. This decline would result from U.S. production increasing faster than domestic demand and therefore possibly reduce American dependence upon imported newsprint by some 500,000 tons by 1959 as compared with 1956."

5. "With present trends in forestry, existing supplies of standing timber in the United States plus prospective growth appear adequate to supply increased demands for pulp and paper."

Andrea Doria Successor Named And Designed

GENOA, Italy, June 17 (AP)—Less than a year after the sleek Andrea Doria, pride of Italy's merchant marine, went down off Nantucket point last July 26, her successor has been designed and named.

Next Sunday, with all the glittering ceremonial of a state occasion the keel of the Leonardo da Vinci will be laid down here at the Sestri Ponente Ansaldo shipyards.

The Leonardo da Vinci will be 761 feet long—39 feet longer than the Andrea Doria, and will have a displacement of 32,000 tons, against the 29,191 tons of her predecessor. She will be the biggest Italian liner ever built. She will have 11 decks, with the top one 59 feet above the water line. At her widest point she will be 92 feet across.

Flash Floods Take 17 Lives In Alpine Area

MILAN, Italy, June 17 (AP)—Flash floods, fist-sized hailstones and a tornado took at least 17 lives this weekend in the Alpine sectors of four nations.

Sixty or more persons were hospitalized with injuries.

Damage in smashed homes, ruined crops and dead livestock ran to at least 150 million dollars. Italy was hardest hit. Other nations affected were France, Switzerland and Germany.

At the same time torrential rains flooded wide areas of Turkey, with at least three persons drowned and eight missing.

The Alpine storm centered in northern Italy's Piedmont and Lombardy departments. The worst twister in Italian history razed two villages and left a swath of ruined farms.

"It was like a great column of smoke which swirled upon us with a sound like a hundred bombers," said a survivor.

The villages of Cigognola and Robecco Pavese were wrecked.

Orchards of gnarled old cherry trees were torn out by the roots. Wheat fields were sheared as if by a huge harvester. A 2,000-pound church bell was whirled 600 yards away from its tower.

Eight persons were killed in the tornado.

Six others in that region died in swollen rivers or landslides as rain and half-pound hailstones added to the terror.

The tornado was confined to Italy, but the rest of the storm lashed across Alpine southeastern France, Switzerland and Germany.

Three persons drowned in French floods. Two thousand were homeless there, in addition to 800 in Italy and several hundred in Switzerland.

Flood damage alone was estimated at 85 million dollars in France and 50 million in Italy.

Roads and rail lines were washed out in the tourist mountains of southern Germany. Homes, trees and crops suffered widespread damage, but no deaths were reported.

Supreme Court's Decision In La. Pupil Case Stands

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The Supreme Court today let stand a decision striking down Louisiana's pupil assignment plan. The plan was adopted in 1954 after the Supreme Court ruled against racial segregation in public schools.

The decision which the Supreme Court refused to review was given by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans. It was appealed by the Orleans Parish School Board—the first time any pupil assignment plan has been involved in such an appeal.

The circuit court in the same decision held invalid a 1954 Louisiana law calling for racial segregation in the State schools. The circuit court also said Louisiana constitutional provisions for maintenance of segregated schools were invalid.

The Supreme Court made no comment in announcing its refusal to hear the case.

The circuit court decision said the Louisiana constitutional provisions and the 1954 laws were in direct conflict with the equal protection clause of the U.S. Constitution's 14th Amendment.

The pupil placement law provided for assignment of each pupil each year by the parish superintendent to a particular school. The circuit court said it provided no standards for the superintendent to follow other than separation of the races.

President James Monroe proclaimed his Monroe Doctrine on Dec. 2, 1823.

Exclusive with Buick SAFETY-BUZZER

—the "built-in conscience" that buzzes when you reach the miles-per-hour you want to stay under, keeps silent when you drop below that pace.

YOU could add up the figures on size, weight, room, power. From that alone you'd discover an important fact: how much more automobile you get in this Buick that's priced so close to the smaller cars.

But in your heart you know you want even more:

You want action. You want fun. You want lift and life and response. You want to feel absolute master over your going and stopping.

So try this Buick—just try it.

It drives and rides and brakes and steers and handles like no other car you've ever known before.

It has a brilliant new V8 engine—like silk with the flow of Niagara.

It has a spectacular new Dynaflo*—instant and smooth to the infinite.

It has powerful new brakes, new roadability, a new precision in its handling.

But the total feeling you get from all this is far, far more than words can bring you.

Come in, sit behind the wheel, and see for yourself why this great buy is the dream car—the hit of the year—to drive.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Buzzer is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Fairchild Plant Will Expand For Secret Project

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp. disclosed today that a secret military project, the Goose, is forcing it to expand its main plant at Hagerstown, Md.

Richard S. Boutelle, president, announced that one of three new buildings to be erected for the company's aircraft division at Hagerstown will be "a new propulsion test laboratory required for testing in connection with the goose weapons system project."

A Fairchild representative said security restrictions prevent disclosure of any further information on the project. He was unable to disclose the nature of the weapon or to identify the service for which it is being built.

The company's annual report earlier this year said development work on the goose project had reached an advance stage and presented a "great potential as a major production activity."

In a bulletin to stockholders this week, Boutelle further disclosed that work on the Goose had been underway since 1953.

Boutelle spoke of the transition of defense from manned aircraft and added that he expected to be able to show within the next few months that Fairchild was "very much in the missile picture."

The company had no comment on industry reports that the weapon was almost ready for testing at the Air Force Missile Test Center at Patrick Air Force Base, Florida.

In addition to the new test laboratory, Fairchild will build an adhesive bonding building and a tool storage building in connection with its work on the B-52 bomber and the F-27 transport project. The three new buildings will total 89,454 square feet of space.

Boutelle also announced that Fairchild will break ground June 25 for a 34,000 square foot engineering office addition, to the administrative building of its engine division at Deer Park, N.Y., where work on the J-83 and J-44 jet engine programs is underway.

He said new construction for the company's stratostats division at Bay Shore, N.Y., to be completed by October, will give that division an additional 23,300 square feet of floor space for production and for new engineering laboratories.

Fat Man Forgot 'Bananas'—Robs Store For Them

RICHMOND, Va., (AP)—H. E. Walters, the manager of a Richmond grocery store, probably lost his taste for bananas Saturday night.

The store had just closed and Walters was unlocking the door to let out a late customer. A fat man walked in from the street, and said apologetically:

"I forgot my bananas."

When the fat man, followed by a thin companion, was well inside the store, it was evident he wanted something more than produce.

"This is a stickup," he told Walters. "Get that safe open quick or I'll kill you."

The thieves departed with approximately 1,000 bananas—the green, crinkly ones.

Negroes Admitted To Baltimore Bar

BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP)—The Bar Assn. of Baltimore City, formed in 1879, voted today to admit women and Negro lawyers.

About 80 per cent of the association members voted in the special secret ballot.

Women and Negroes had not been barred technically from membership in the association. But for 78 years it had been tradition that they were not considered acceptable.

Escaped Felon Back In Jail

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md., June 17 (AP)—William Elvin Hurst today was back in the jail from which he escaped March 7, but a friend who fled with him still is at large.

The 26-year-old Hurst was returned from Tallahassee, Fla., during the weekend by Sheriff Samuel Lyons.

Hurst overpowered a guard who entered his cell to clean up March 7 and then freed a friend, 24-year-old Kenneth George Hess, from another cell.

For about ten days, the fugitives remained in Calvert County, eluding a search party which used a helicopter and bloodhounds. Then, said Sheriff Lyons, they stole a car from a garage behind the jail and left the state.

Hurst was arrested March 29 after he had broken into a Florida building, but his companion escaped. Hurst contested extradition.

Hurst and Hess, both Baltimoreans, were awaiting trial on grand larceny charges when they escaped.

BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP)—The state summoned today 43 witnesses before the grand jury in its effort to counteract a petition by Dr. Robert Reddick seeking to force a vote on a new medical act.

Dr. Reddick filed a petition with 1,400 names to subject a 1957 act of the Legislature to the November, 1958, ballot. The act took away from homeopaths the right to issue medical licenses.

Dr. Reddick has been involved in several court actions because of his leadership in issuing licenses in the name of the Homeopathic Society. He was enjoined by a Baltimore court last summer from granting licenses and dismissed as a state employee at the Eastern Shore Hospital.

The attorney general's office ruled that Dr. Reddick's petition was invalid and declared it "shot through with improprieties or worse."

The petition was submitted to the grand jury for possible action. The list of witnesses summoned to testify in connection with it indicate their names were on the petition.

J. Harold Grady, state's attorney, has summoned 23 to appear Wednesday and 20 on Thursday.

Appointments Are Approved By Council

The Mayor and Council approved several appointments yesterday.

Stephen Eugene Thompson was named temporary patrolman in the Police Department effective June 12 in the absence of a Civil Service Commission eligible list.

Mrs. Margaret Manges was named in a temporary capacity to assist in verifying signatures on petitions for a referendum in connection with the proposed increase in the tax limitation. The appointment is effective June 4 at a rate of $7 a day.

Others Named
Seasonal recreation employees approved include:

Dorothea Louise Harper as Penn Avenue ticket seller at $2.50 a session; Gerald Yankelevitz as playground director at Lamont Street replacing Adrian Counihan at $115 a month; Sheila Fram as playground director at Johnson Heights replacing June Bush at $100 a month; Michael Wilson as playground leader at North End replacing Yankelevitz at $80 a month.

The city's playgrounds begin operation next Monday.

Council approved a leave of absence to a member of the Police Department, Roy C. Hawse, to attend the summer field training of the National Guard at Indiantown Gap, Pa., August 17-31. Hawse is a master sergeant.

Council routine included:

Water commissioner William J. Edwards was authorized to advertise for bids on two one-half ton panel trucks for the Water Department with allowance on two used pickup trucks.

Council acted on an introductory ordinance and slated final action next week in connection with the closing of a portion of Schlund Avenue from the intersection with the easterly side of Frederick Street to the westerly side of Rosewood Street.

Payments authorized include $9,568.63 to Moyer Brothers as partial estimate No. 27 for the sewage treatment plant; and $11,314.89 to George F. Hazelwood Company as estimate No. 18 for work at the Lake Gordon filter plant.

More Routine

Parking meter inspector Harry Whisner said collections the week of June 2 were $631.72 compared to $704.22 the week of June 9, an increase of $72.50.

Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 79,190,000 gallons compared to 80,310,000 the same period a year ago. The water level at Lake Gordon is three inches above the crest of the spillway and at Lake Koon two inches above, according to a report submitted by C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of Evitts Creek Water Company.

Casper A. Shook, 109 East Elder Street, suggested that the traffic light at the corner of Virginia Avenue and Second Street be made to conform with operations of other lights in the city. This particular one, he said, has two walk signals to each one for traffic resulting in a slowdown in traffic flow.

Armed Forces Day in the United States is always the third Saturday in May.

Zoning Commission Will Designate Trailer Sites

The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission will be asked to designate sites within the city limits as "trailer court" areas under an ordinance proposed at yesterday's meeting of the Mayor and Council.

Council rejected unanimously an ordinance which would have prohibited the future use of trailer sites as dwellings within the city limits. This ordinance had been delayed one week by a negative

$2,500 Damage Suit Is Filed

Suit for $2,500 damages was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Donald W. Durst and Emily Durst, his wife, against Lester McGill, Vocke Road, for alleged damage to their property from surface water.

The declaration, docketed by Edward J. Ryan, attorney for the Dursts, states that they purchased a residence October 5, 1947 from N. J. Zeller on Glen View Terrace in the Braddock Road section. They state they spent large sums of money landscaping the higher level of ground above their home and had a drainage ditch installed.

It is alleged that McGill bought the upper level property and removed trees and top soil and the ditch. As a result, it is claimed by the Dursts, surface water has damaged their property.

vote cast last Monday by Mayor Roy W. Eves.

The change came about after several protests had been received by council from trailer owners and it had heard two proposals from local property owners who are interested in developing land they own as trailer sites. The men are Thomas L. Popp who told council about a day and will be up for final pass West Side site he wants to develop and Charles Sullivan who has a similar site in South End.

City Engineer C. R. Nuzum told the men developing adequate facilities for a trailer area could cost up to $300 a unit, exclusive of land. The City, Mayor Eves added, will not permit the construction of trailer sites which do not have the proper safeguards for health, safety and the general welfare of the city.

A city, he said, should provide for trailers but only under conditions which meet acceptable standards for health and safety and it had heard two proposals from local property owners who are interested in developing land they own as trailer sites.

Under the new ordinance which the Dursts, states that they purchased a residence October 5, 1947 from N. J. Zeller on Glen View Terrace in the Braddock Road section. They state they spent large sums of money landscaping the higher level of ground above their home and had a drainage ditch installed.

It is alleged that McGill bought the upper level property and removed trees and top soil and the ditch. As a result, it is claimed by the Dursts, surface water has damaged their property.

More than one-half of all need some kind of eye aid to see American industrial employees properly for their jobs.

Guesswork Taken Out Of Gardening

Flower garden enthusiasts can plan and plant attractive designs in their gardens by simply noting the color of the seed a company is introducing. Each seed is individually coated with a colored plant food, indicating the color of the bloom that will develop.

This unique seed color coating development not only takes the guess work out of gardening, but is a concentrated fertilizer to nourish the seedling through critical stages of development.

The garden wedding was solemnized beneath a trellis of roses at the home of the bride, with Rev. I. G. Allen of Prosperity Methodist Church officiating.

Members of the bridal party were Miss Patricia Erickson, as maid of honor; Shelvea Dean Raines, Linda Lou Raines, sisters of the bride, and Loraine Smith, junior bridesmaids. Paul Lanham served as Mr. Twigg's best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white dacon cotton street-length dress, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves and full skirt. With it she wore long gloves. Her chin-length bridal veil was held by a circlet of pearls. Completing her costume, she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Her attendants wore summer cottens, made similar to the bride's with low neckline and full skirts. With them they had matching hats and accessories. Miss Erickson's gown was blue and she carried a bouquet of sweet williams, backed with blue net and ribbons. Shelvea Dean was in green; Linda Lou, yellow and Loraine, pink. They carried bouquets of roses, with backing net and streamers matching their dresses.

Mrs. Raines chose an orchid dacon dress for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore a white hat and accessories and a yellow roses corsage. Mrs. Twigg was attired in a blue costume and had a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1954 and is employed at McCrory Store Corp. The bridegroom is a graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1953 and is employed at the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Raines entertained with a reception following the ceremony. The bridal motif was carried out in the tiered wedding cake, with miniature bride and bridegroom, with candelabra of white tapers at either side.

For their wedding trip through Virginia, the bride wore a pink linen dress with navy blue accessories. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Twigg will reside on Harrison Street.

Whenever a bridge player has been a victim of long odds, this department is usually quick to shed a tear, but we are inclined to be impatient with a player who risks all in an effort to squeeze out the last drop.

Today's bidding sequence is perhaps not a model of elegance but we are not inclined to take issue with South. On revaluation the South hand is worth about 22 points and North's jump promises the equal of an opening bid. Since North has not shown any suit, a grand slam contract does not appear inviting and a direct leap to six appears to be a reasonable measure.

The opening lead of the jack of clubs was a source of comfort to two players — West, who could

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Personal Daintiness

The flatteries of perfume cannot be denied. But to our mind, the deodorant is just as essential to a woman's true glamor. Personal daintiness is a necessity for charm.

In bygone days, a woman could do very little to protect her charm except cross her fingers and hope for luck. Feminine teenagers of today, for the most part, are certainly better educated in the matter of personal daintiness than most of their mothers were at the same age. Statistics show that the deodorant is the number one item on teen-agers purchase list of beauty items. In fact, 93.4 per cent of teen-agers use a deodorant. Cologne follows second to their list; 61.6 per cent use cologne.

Youth Study Is Sought By Pastors

The Cumberland Ministerial Association yesterday asked the Mayor and Council to appoint a "representative committee" to study problems of youth in Cumberland.

Council referred the request to Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan and City Attorney Thomas B. Finan for investigation and report.

Charles C. Cook, Mrs. Earl Judy and George F. Harrison appeared before council to protest the condition of an alley between Avirett Avenue and Beall Street. Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz said work on the alley has been scheduled and it will be completed as soon as possible.

A letter from John J. Mitchell, 118 Winton Place, urged council to renew its efforts in behalf of the C&O Canal Parkway. Mitchell said more opposition has developed and asked council to contact U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall on the matter again.

Buchholz said Mitchell's letter is worthy of consideration. He said the city should leave no stone unturned in its efforts favoring the parkway and added the people who oppose the parkway are "being selfish about it."

Buchholz's motion that Mayor Roy W. Eves send a telegram to Beall urging him to continue his support of efforts to have legislation approved, received unanimous vote of council.

Keegan told council that representatives of the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association will meet with city officials next Monday at 11 a. m. The association has requested consideration for a wage increase.

A Tribute To Fathers!

There's an old saying "mother knows best." Well, it seems to us that Father, bless him, should come in for some compliments, too, once in a while. It is true, of course, that upon mother's patient shoulders rests the upbringing of the children. And that is as it should be. But let's not forget that Pa is generally the family breadwinner and it is up to him to pay the bills. When day is done and he comes home, make things as cheery and loving as you can. Have a nice dinner ready. Lay out his slippers and his beloved pipe. Show him how much you love him by being kind and considerate. He may not tell you how he appreciates these attentions. But he will... as all good fathers do!

Not Only America Faces Inflation

Threat of inflation hanging over the U. S. economy is not confined to this country. United Nations figures reveal it as an ogre that ranges virtually the entire free world—and the iron curtain cannot hide the fact that Communist countries are also afflicted by it.

Cost of living trends as reflected in tables supplied by the UN show the spiral has mounted highest in some South American countries. Living costs in Chile show an increase of 789 per cent and in Brazil 177 per cent for the 1950-56 period. Last year the rise in those countries was 41 and 27 per cent, respectively.

While percentages do not reflect the full impact of changing costs, of the 19 countries covered in the UN study, only two had increases that were below the U. S. rise of 13 points.

Economists debate the causes of inflation and the cures for it. Sometimes it seems that every possible point of view has its champion. But it is interesting that the anti-inflation policies of the countries reporting show a marked uniformity.

Monetary and credit restraints are the leading weapons employed. In addition there are efforts—not often successful—to achieve economy in government. These measures are invoked virtually all over the world. Finally, there are efforts to halt the wage-price spiral.

In a word, the generally accepted key is "savings"—savings at the personal level, at the government level, and those made possible by moderation in the area of wages and prices. These are steps that tend to increase the capital available for industrial expansion and thereby raise productivity. Persisted in, they could result in reduced taxes and more goods available at lower prices.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

A Philosopher's Logic

John Somerville, Ph.D., has had an astonishing career as a Soviet specialist in the United States. The Cutting and Rockefeller Foundations and Columbia and Stanford Universities granted him fellowships (which is the scholar's term for a subsidy) to study in Soviet Russia with the object of learning about the inner workings of the Communist system right there in the heart of things. He spent two years in Soviet Russia and one year in the Hoover Library learning about revolutions. He has written considerably on the subject, both books and articles, and teaches at Hunter College in New York which is a tax-supported institution.

In recent years, Dr. John Somerville has been appearing in Smith Act cases to testify as an expert on the nature of the Communist conspiracy which he, of course, denies is a conspiracy. His general philosophy on the subject and the basis of his testimony has appeared in a book entitled "The Communist Trials and the American Tradition."

The object of the book is to prove that the Communists do not believe that it is their function to overthrow any government by force and violence, but what they actually do believe is that the majority should rule, a concept that Marx and Engels got from John Locke and Thomas Jefferson.

As this runs counter to 40 years of history and experience, as it violates what has been seen in Hungary and Poland, as it is opposed to the entire doctrine of the dictatorship of the proletariat by means of the Communist Party through which its central agency either called the Politburo or the Presidium, it cannot be correct. What one encounters here is a prolonged explanation which does not stand up even under Lenin's statement of the party's attitude.

"In order to win the majority of the population to its side, the proletariat must first of all overthrow the bourgeoisie and seize state power and, secondly, it must introduce a Soviet rule, smash to pieces the old state apparatus, and thus at one blow undermine the rule, authority and influence of the bourgeoisie and of the petty-bourgeois compromisers in the ranks of the non-proletarian toiling masses. Thirdly, the proletariat must completely and finally destroy the influence of the bourgeoisie and of the petty-bourgeois compromisers among the majority of the non-proletarian toiling masses by the revolutionary satisfaction of their economic needs at the expense of the exploiters."

Lenin's statement is more accurately descriptive of the revolution wherever it has taken place. In 1917-18, I lived through the early revolutionary days when Lenin and Trotsky ruled the Russian people. There was no majority vote. I was present, as a reporter, at the Constituent Assembly at which the Bolsheviks represented a tiny fraction, but they had the support of sailors and soldiers with guns and they closed down the Constituent Assembly which might have been representative of a greater percentage of the Russian people than the Communist Party under Khrushchev represents today.

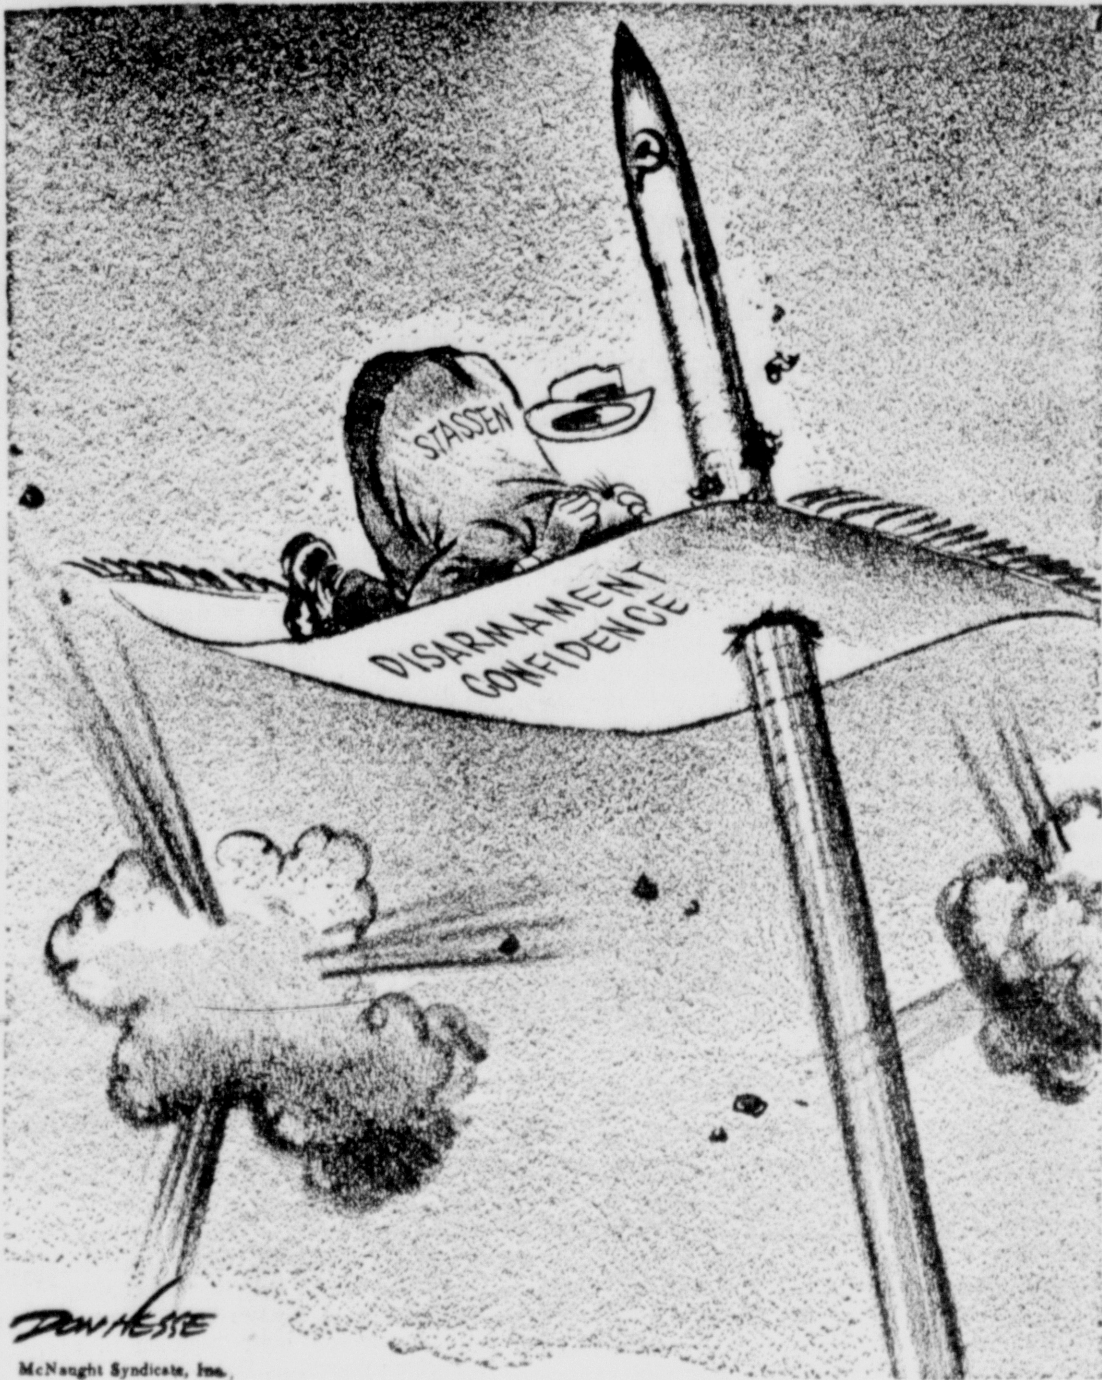

In China, there never was a people's revolution or a people's democracy or a majority or a minority. The Chinese Communists were able to seize power because Soviet Russia gave them the supplies of the Japanese Kwantung Army in Manchuria whereas the United States, under the aegis of General George Marshall, deprived the Nationalists of their position and fighting power.

The role played by General Marshall aroused controversy which will not be settled in this generation; but that the Chinese Communist Party from 1921 to 1949 devoted itself to overthrowing the existing government of China by force and violence, by intrigue and conspiracy, is historic fact that can be sustained day by day by the course of events. This was no majority deciding that it preferred Mao Tze-tung to Chiang Kai-shek or vice-versa. No one asked the majority or even a sizeable minority of the Chinese people what they wanted.

Khrushchev in his CBS telecast defended the murderous role of the Communists in Hungary and said that the Kadar regime rested on the majority of the Hungarian people. This, of course, is a cynical lie and no book by a Hunter College professor can make it anything else or bring back to life those who sacrificed themselves on the altar of liberty.

What, I wonder, did Professor Somerville really learn during the two years that he studied in the Academy of Sciences of Soviet Russia?

The Magic Carpet Runs Into Flak

Will U.S. Pass Nuclear Point Of No Return?

WASHINGTON.

The National Security Council, the nation's top policy-making body, has been pondering in recent weeks the basic question of American national strategy: How much should the United States rely on the terrible multi-megaton nuclear weapons as instruments of national power? To put the question another way: Under what circumstances, short of all-out Soviet nuclear aggression, would an American President authorize the use of such incredibly destructive weapons?

The NSC has decided "in principle" that the United States must not become exclusively dependent on the big nuclear weapons. But such decisions in principle have a way of fading into meaninglessness, and the decision has resulted in no visible changes in American defense planning. Such changes are inevitable, if the trend towards ever-increasing reliance on the multi-megaton weapons is to be reversed.

Recently testimony on Capitol Hill points up what the issue with which the NSC has been grappling is all about. A few days ago, Gen. Lauris Norstad, able NATO commander, testified that this country had the power of "destroying everything that is of military significance in Russia." Norstad was talking, of course, of the power to launch an all-out nuclear attack on the Soviet Union, which is the heart of the Western strategy of deterrence.

Such an attack would require the explosion of many hundreds of high yield nuclear weapons. The Soviets, presumably, would reply in kind. Thus the kind of war Norstad was talking about would mean the explosion of nuclear weapons with a total power of something like 2,500 to 5,000 megatons.

Organic Changes To Be Expected With Age

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

No organ escapes the aging process as we grow older but some deteriorate faster than others and some medical men believe that arteriosclerosis exists in everyone over 60. This is nothing to worry about because blood can get through hardened arteries for many years, just as water is capable of running through rusty pipes.

Thomas Parr was reputed to be the oldest man since Methuselah. He was known affectionately as Old Parr and lived a quiet life in the English countryside in the 17th Century. King Charles I heard about him and had him brought to London to be wine and dined.

Parr died promptly and Dr. William Harvey, the famous discoverer of the circulation of the blood, performed the autopsy. No anatomical cause was found and it was concluded that the old man "died of a surfeit." He probably ate and drank too much which — together with the excitement of being feted by a king — was too rich for his blood.

The passing of Old Parr is deserving of two comments: Not everyone dies of old age; and overindulgence is poor policy at any age. We live as long as our weakest vital organ holds out. On the other hand, the different structures of the body work in unison, and when one fails the others are affected.

By 60 the lungs, for example, are smaller and flabbier and weigh less than they did at a younger age. The walls of the air sacs are thinner and less elastic, and lack the old recoil at the end of inspiration that helps empty the lungs during expiration. Moreover, the function of the lungs is influenced by the condition of the spine ribs and muscular elements of the chest wall.

But the lungs have a much larger margin of safety than do the heart and blood vessels. As a result, few oldsters are handicapped by the aging process of these organs, even those who have had lung trouble in the past.

There are exceptions, especially when cough is a prominent symptom. The oldster may not be able to take it, particularly when hacking interferes with sleep and relaxation. These individuals live more comfortably in a dry, sub-tropical climate where there is less chance of developing colds and other infections.

STUBBORN INFECTION

Mrs. G. writes: Why is trichomoniasis so difficult to cure? I'm desperate about this condition.

Administration's Fiscal Policy Has Put Federal Treasury In A Pickle

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—By an ironic twist which the general public doesn't realize, George Humphrey is stepping out as Secretary of the Treasury just as the Treasury is in one of the worst messes in recent history.

To quote the Wall Street Journal: "The Government of the United States is in a fiscal mess. The Treasury of the richest nation on earth is short of money, at one point this spring it had hardly enough cash to pay a week's worth of bills."

Yet Mr. Humphrey has been hailed as the strong man of the Cabinet and one of the greatest secretaries of the Treasury in history.

The fact is, however, that Victory Bonds have been selling at $86, the same panic levels at which millions of people sold and took their losses on Liberty Bonds after World War I. In addition, the Treasury's interest rate for long-term bonds is at the highest point in history, despite which the bonds can't be sold to the public. The recent $4,200,000,000 bond offering at 3-3/4 per cent for 57 months was a complete bust. The investing public just would not buy.

On top of this the Treasury has to raise $55 billion to cover maturing bonds in the next 12 months. Yet it has now given up all hope of raising money through long-term bonds and gone back to short-term notes.

Bankers In Control

One of the big campaign issues of the Eisenhower administration was to get away from short-term, hand-to-mouth financing. To accomplish this, one of the leading businessmen of the nation, George Humphrey, was made Secretary of the Treasury, while the actual job of revising fiscal policy was put under Randolph Burgess of the National City Bank, a strong critic of the government's past bond policy under Henry Morgenthau. Burgess is married to a great-great-granddaughter of Alexander Hamilton, first Secretary of the Treasury and the father of American fiscal policy.

One of the first things Burgess did was to announce that he would take $170 billion of the government's debt and put it away in long-term bonds for 20 or 30 years.

To please the bankers, he also jacked up interest rates. This was his worst mistake. After he had hiked interest rates on one bond issue, he couldn't go back to lower rates on other issues. The bankers and the investors wouldn't take it.

So the cost of handling the national debt today, because of increased interest charges, is about the same as the cost of the entire government budget during the peak days of WPA and PWA, when many business leaders were denouncing the high cost of government.

Meanwhile, the government has enough money to last through June. But $4 billion will be needed in July. In August, the Treasury faces another $15-1/2 billion in maturities, with another $8 billion in October. Though part of these are held by the Federal Reserve at least $9 to $10 billion are in public hands.

These public investors are finding that they can get a better return from the stock market or in municipal bonds. They don't like having their money tied up in long-term government bonds when runaway inflation is daily depleting the value of the dollar.

You can write it down, therefore, that as long as inflation continues, the Treasury will face an almost impossible problem of floating its loans. No wonder George Humphrey is anxious to exit as Secretary of the Treasury.

Navy Slaps Back

You can't prove it, but it looks as if the Navy had decided to retaliate against Congressional economists. It has ordered an abrupt close-down of the Elizabeth City, N. C. Naval facility.

This Naval station is in the district of North Carolina's Herbert Bonner, Chairman of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee and a leading budget-cutter. His votes have been considered anti-Navy.

You can't get anyone at the Navy Department to admit this, but it seems highly unusual that the Elizabeth City Naval base should be closed, for two reasons:

1. It is a blimp base used to patrol the Atlantic coast for submarines; and more Russian subs have been lurking off the coast than ever, watching guided missile operations.

2. Elizabeth City happens to have the only two hangars that can accommodate the new blimps ordered by the Navy. When they are delivered, they'll have no place to go except Elizabeth City—unless new hangars are built, which would certainly be no economy.

If you ask anyone at the Navy about this, all you get are smiles. However, it certainly looks as if Congressman Bonner is getting slapped and slapped hard.

Note — The cost to Elizabeth City will be a $3,000,000 a year Navy payroll. Other areas around the USA are beginning to learn what budget-pruning means, as other military facilities are closed down.

Headlines And Headaches

AFL-CIO president George Meany told only half the story when he accused General Electric of mishandling its workers' welfare fund. Company spokesman John Calahan admitted in a sworn statement that General Electric pockets as much as $6,500,000 a year in dividends from the welfare fund. Yet half the money was contributed by the employees, who get no dividends. Incidentally, General Electric turns over its entire insurance business to Metropolitan Life Insurance without consulting the workers or calling for bids. GE chairman Philip Reed, who handles all the company's finances, also happens to be a director of Metropolitan Life. The White House claims Ike retired the Presidential yacht, Williamsburg, to save the taxpayers' money. Yet the Defense Department is still operating another yacht, the Sequoia, for top Pentagon officials. It makes a dozen cruises a month down the Potomac, loaded with partying officials. Cost to the taxpayers: $23,529 a year, not counting the salaries of the 24-man Navy crew. Though yachtless, Ike is still keeping up the Presidential launch, the Marjorie, which he has renamed the Susie E. Gen. Joe Smith, Military Air Transport commander, expropriated the officers' club at Andrews Air Force Base the other evening for his own private party. However, he invited most of the base officers to the party.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

My love has sworn with sealing kiss
With me to live—to die
I have at last my nameless bliss
As I love—loved am I.

—Charlotte Bronte

It used to be the employee who worried about holding his job. Now the employer is worrying about holding the employee. Recent reports indicate that in the United States six times as many people are quitting jobs as are fired. In the business world the most difficult employees to hold are executives' secretaries. Perhaps our Horses and Women Department should issue a pamphlet of Helpful Hints titled "How To Keep A Secretary Happy."

ASKING

Queries from clients. Q. Has there ever been a celebrated love affair between a tall woman and a short man? A. Lady Hamilton was tall and Lord Nelson was short. Q. Are you familiar with a song titled "Teaching McFadden To Dance"? A. No, sir. However, I know the one titled "Casey Would Waltz With A Strawberry Blonde." Q. What major league ballplayer was nicknamed "Baby Doll"? A. That was "Baby Doll" Jacobson. He played the outfield for the St. Louis Browns.

BEST PERFORMANCE

What do you rate the best stage performance you ever saw? The distinguished drama critic, Percy Hammond, once stated that in his over 40 years as a playgoer the best performance he had seen was Henry Hull as Jeeter Lester in "Tobacco Road." I think the best legitimate stage performance I have seen was that of Jeanne Eagles as Sadie Thompson in "Rain."

HORSES AND WOMEN

Women who switch from brunette to blonde hair coloring are usually of a generally changeable nature. The percentage of divorce among such women is much higher than the average. Their inclination to change husbands is great.

AMONG THE MARRIED

Polyandry is practiced in Tibet. Some Tibetan women have as many as five husbands. The husbands do all the housework. However, it is a feast or a famine as regards husbands in Tibet. One out of every three males in that country is in a monastery. So the beautiful women get five husbands and, as polygamy is also practiced, most of the rest of the girls have to share one husband. Some of them have only a one-tenth share in a husband.

FORGOTTEN MAN

Among the inventors to whom the feminine portion of the population owe a vote of thanks is Solomon Goldberg. He invented the crinkled hairpin. Before that all hairpins were straight and difficult to keep in the hair. The crinkled hairpin cured that discouraging situation. Goldberg is reported to have made a fortune from this simple invention.

BRIEFLY

In Maryland it is illegal for a wife to go through her husband's pockets. Remember that, lady, if you live in Baltimore . . . New York is the noisiest major city in the world. Paris is a close second. London is third. New York registers 100 decibels (measure of sound). Paris, 90 decibels. London 60 decibels.

IN A FEW WORDS

It was none other than Gabrielle Bonheur Chanel who said, "Men have better taste in clothes than women. A woman should always bring a man along when she buys a hat or dress. A woman is likely to give an insincere opinion. You can trust a man."

MILWAUKEE, June 17 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, led by the four for four hitting of Gene Freese, defeated the National League leading Milwaukee Braves 7-5 tonight by pushing over four runs in the ninth inning of a makeup game.

The defeat cut Milwaukee's lead over the idle second place St. Louis Cardinals to a single game. Dave Jolly, second Milwaukee hurler, was charged with the defeat, his first against no victories while Bob Purkey, fourth of five Pirate hurlers, picked up the victory, his sixth against four defeats.

The Braves outslug the Pirates 17 hits to 10, with Red Schoendienst, Milwaukee's new second baseman getting two doubles and a pair of singles in five trips. Andy Pafko, Joe Adcock and Johnny Logan chipped in three hits each for the Braves.

Hess struck out 12 batsmen and bagged his fourth win against two losses.

Terry Weltman headed the victors with a home run and two singles while "Ducky" Perdue smacked a two-bagger and a pair of singles.

Sports Shoppe made it six wins in a row by trimming Gray's Tavern at Naval Reserve Field, 6-2.

The league leaders collected seven hits. James Hamilton heading the attack with a double and single. Ivan Eck collected a triple and single for Gray's.

Western Maryland Railway stayed right on the heels of the league leaders by edging Kelly-Springfield by East Side Field by the score of 5-4.

Denny Knippenburg pitched runless and hitless ball until the 7th inning when he weakened, yielded three runs and Ellis "Turtle" Slonaker came on to put out the fire.

Cresaptown 2-1 Victor Over Midland In Tenth

BI-STATE PONY LEAGUE W L Ellerslie 6 0 LaVale 3 4 Mt. Savage 4 1 Frostburg 2 4 Lonaconing 4 2 Midland 1 5 Cresaptown 3 4 Corriganville 1 6

Cresaptown eked out a 2-1 decision over Midland in ten innings and Mt. Savage won over LaVale in an eight inning battle by the score of 5-4 yesterday in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League.

Ellerslie kept its record unblemished by nothing win No. 6 at the expense of Corriganville's cellarites, 13-4, and Lonaconing nosed out Frostburg by the score of 4-3.

Clem's Hit Decides

In the thriller at Cresaptown, Tommy Cecil and Lefty Wayne Johnson hooked up in a pitching duel but were forced to retire due to league rules in the 9th inning with the score knotted at 1-1. Midland's Johnson had struck out 17 batsmen in nine frames. Gary Clingerman and Bill Green took over the pitching chores in the 10th and the former was returned the winner when Tommy Cecil walked. Dave Kamauf singled and Gary Clem doubled to send over the run that decided the contest. Clingerman struck out the side in the 10th stanza.

Clem collected three hits and Johnny Hinds had two for Manager Dale Broadwater's team. Four Midland players had one hit each.

Homers Ends Battle

Leroy Robertson, first up in the 8th inning, clouted a home run to give Mt. Savage the decision over LaVale in the second overtime battle of the day. Mt. Savage forced the game into an extra inning by tying the score in the 7th when Smith raced home on Deffenbaugh's sacrifice fly.

Bobby Green, who came on as relief for Barb, got credit for his fifth win of the season against one loss. Ted Femi of LaVale, and Fay Offen and Ronnie Emerick, Mt. Savage, collected two hits each.

Two Hit Round-Trippers

Don Lowery and Faulkner smashed home runs as Ellerslie rolled to another victory over Corriganville.

Each team collected 10 hits and the win went to Howard Wisler, who started for Ellerslie and was relieved by Jim Cook in the 6th inning. Don Lowery and Faulkner had a homer and single each for Ellerslie while Jim DeHaven garnered three singles for the Corps.

Jim Getty Is Victor

Jim Getty outpitched Staggs and Sittig to give Lonaconing the verdict over Frostburg. Trailing 3-2, "Coney" put the game on ice in the 6th inning with a two-run rally. Getty squeezing over the winning run after hits by Bobby Brown, Roger Wilson and Jim Pollack had knotted the count at 3-3.

Getty limited Frostburg to four hits and struck out eight. He was accorded brilliant support by Roger Wilson, who made several nice catches in centerfield. Wilson also rapped a two-bagger and single. Staggs and Sittig, Frostburg hurlers, struck out ten. The scores: AT MT. SAVAGE: LaVale 002 020 0-4 5 4 Mt. ## Vince Martinez Whips Gavilan

JERSEY CITY, N.J., June 17 (AP)—Welterweight contender Vince Martinez piled up a big lead, survived a right that staggered him in the fifth round, and finished strong to gain his second straight 10-round decision over former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan tonight. Martinez weighed 150 1/2, Gavilan, 147 1/2.

Referee Paul Cavalier, the sole official, scored it 7-3 in rounds for the 28-year-old Paterson, N.J., favorite. He gave the fading ex-champ the first, fifth and seventh rounds, and Martinez the rest. The Associated Press card had Martinez ahead, 8-2, giving Gavilan only the fifth and seventh rounds.

It was the fifth straight defeat for the 31-year-old old Cuban and his 25th against 104 wins. Martinez racked up his 53rd victory against five defeats.

An estimated crowd of 7,200 paid approximately $34,000 for the Red Cross charity show in outdoor Roosevelt Stadium on a hot, muggy night with the temperature about 85 degrees.

SPORTS GRILL

NEW YORK, June 17 (INS)—

Rival fight promoters Jim Norris and Emil Lence profess to be deeply interested in the fighting ability of White Sox outfielder Larry Doby and Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale.

Both ball players displayed an unsuspected ability to punch in melees last week and with a dearth of good heavyweights the promoters would be glad to accept any new talent especially such well known athletes as Doby and Drysdale.

Lence is ready to match Doby and Drysdale and if baseball commissioner Ford Frick would agree he would even put them on the Patterson-Jackson heavyweight title fight card. At that, the ball players probably would arouse more interest than Patterson and Jackson.

Some may profess to be horrified at ball players erupting into a fist fight on the ball field but we are not among them. With teams engaged in hot pennant fights, tense feelings are likely to erupt into physical action at any time.

Just between ourselves, while the club owners and league officials profess to be horrified over such uncouth exhibitions of so-called rowdiness, the fact is they are actually delighted because it all adds to attendance. There is nothing like a good feud to fatten the gate.

It has been a great many years since the National League has staged such a tight race among so many teams. Five teams are definitely in the pennant picture and the other three — Giants, Pirates and Cubs — on given days are more than any of the top five can handle. Witness the four straight beatings the Pirates handed the Reds last week.

The pressure will be constant on the Braves, Dodgers, Phils, Reds and Cardinals from now on and fans are beginning to wonder which will crack first.

We don't look for any of them to crack in the sense that they will show any tightening around the collar — as the ball players say when they want to intimate a club is choking up.

But we do expect them all to have a temporary let-down now and then. If any club has the stuff to step out and leave the others we should say it is the Dodgers.

The failure of Duke Snider, normally a great hitter, to deliver is all that has kept the Dodgers from having a good lead right now. If he starts hitting, the club should move away from the rest.

Braves Sign Johnson

LYNN, Mass., June 17 (AP)—Lorne (Tippy) Johnson, much sought 19-year-old all around athlete, today was signed to a minor league contract by Jeff Jones, chief New England scout for the Milwaukee Braves.

Johnson, heavy-hitting pitcher-outfielder, is expected to play the outfield for the Braves' McCook farm in Nebraska. He was top scorer among schoolboy hockey and football players and for most of his three years batted about .400.

Mantle Ties Williams For Batting Lead

Skowron Is Hottest Hitter In Majors

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Who is major league baseball's hottest hitter?

Not Mickey Mantle or Ted Williams, who are deadlocked for the American League batting lead... or Gil Hodges and Stan Musial, running one-two in the National League competition.

He's Bill Skowron, 26-year-old first baseman of the New York Yankees. On May 24, Skowron was hitting a meager .236. Since then the six foot, 195 pounder has cracked 42 hits in 94 times at bat, a sizzling .447 pace.

In last week's games alone, Skowron had 14 safeties in 26 tries (.536) to boost his average 30 points to .333. This output enabled him to move into sixth place among the American League hitters.

Skowron, a righthanded batter, drove in nine runs last week to move into second place in this department with 43. Washington's Roy Sievers has the most RBIs, 48.

The Yankees, who gained ground on the pacesetter Chicago White Sox the past week, also were helped considerably by Mantle's continued batting brilliance.

Mickey And Ted Tied

Mantle increased his average 25 points in last week's action and this surge, coupled with a loss of 12 points by Williams, the Boston slugger, resulted in a tie after Sunday's games. Each is hitting .379.

Mantle also walloped five home runs, raising his league-leading total to 19. Williams slammed four circuit blows and is second with 17.

Musial closed in on Hodges in the National League. The St. Louis Cards' first baseman climbed seven points to .365 while Brooklyn's Hodges picked up three points to .366 before he was sidelined with a rib injury last Friday.

Dee Fondy of Pittsburgh moved up one notch to third place at .359. He had 11 hits in 26 at bats for a 10 point increase. Dick Groat of the Pirates, who has been out of action with a severely sprained ankle since May 26, is fourth with .352.

Bob Cerv Is Third

Bob Cerv of Kansas City moved into third place in the American League race on an eight point gain to .353. Then came Bob Boyd of Baltimore with .343 and Nelson Fox of Chicago with .341. Boyd picked up 14 points with 12 safe blows in 29 trips.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee is the National League leader in home runs and runs batted in. He hit three home runs and sent home 11 runners in last week's games, putting his season's record at 18 homers and 51 RBIs. Musial is runnerup in both of these categories with 14 circuit wallops and 50 runs batted in.

DeCola Wins Bout At St. Nick Arena

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Tony De Cola of New York upset French welterweight Felix Chiocca of Paris by taking a split decision in a 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

De Cola weighed 146, Chiocca 142.

An 8-5 underdog who was appearing in his first main event, De Cola got a 7-3 vote from Referee Davey Feld, Judge Joe Eppy also scored for the lanky 20-year-old, 5-4-1. Judge Frank Fullam had Chiocca ahead, 6-4. There were no knockdowns in the grueling contest waged in 90-degree heat.

Vacationland

By FRANK KURCHIRCHUK

LESS THAN 40 hours' flying time from New York, modern cities stand against the wild and primitive beauty of the Union of South Africa, where touring Americans are discovering the fascination of tribal customs, rituals and crafts.

Gone is the day when only big game hunters go to Africa. Today most of the shooting is done with cameras. All the exotic birds and even some big animals are trapped easily in a view finder in the national parks.

Deep in the interior overnight rest camps provide comfortable accommodations at rates from 70 cents to $8 a night. Thousands of feet below the surface visitors may watch natives drill and blast for ore in fabulous gold mines. Nearby ostrich farms feature thrilling and sometimes wild bird rides.

South Africa's temperate climate and seasons are just the opposite of that in the U. S.—their mild winter starts in June.

Entrant in best-dressed ricksha boy competition.

A giraffe stops traffic in Kruger National park.

These are typical grass huts in barren Zululand.

Stock Market Irregular, Industrials Move Ahead

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Industrial shares moved to another new high for the year but the stock market as a whole was irregular today.

Tobacco rallied late in the session as cigarette prices on a number of brands were increased.

Steels moved forward a bit on prospects for more steel buying by the automakers in the next month or so.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 20 cents to $186.30, just 10 cents below the latest high for 1957 reached last Thursday.

Volume improved to 2,220,000 shares compared with 2,090,000 on Friday.

Revel was the most active stock, up 1 1/2 at 29 on 32,000 shares. Second was Monsanto, up 1 1/4 at 39 3/4 on 29,800 shares. Third was Standard Oil (New Jersey), up 3/4 at 67 3/4.

Next came Bethlehem Steel, up 3/4 at 49 1/2, and General telephone up 1/2 at 42 1/2.

Also heavily traded, Dobeckmun spurred 3/4, although merger talks with Dow Chemical were now being soft pedaled in Wall Street comment.

The tobacco stocks did not close at their best prices but kept some respectable gains. American Tobacco rose 1 1/4, Philip Morris 1 and Reynolds Tobacco "B" 1 1/4.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet gained fractions. Luskens Steel 1/4, Anaconda dropped 2 points and Kennecott 1/2. American Smelting was off 1/2.

Chrysler and Ford each dropped a point. Union Carbide rose 2 1/2. Douglas Aircraft lost 2, Allied Aircraft 1 1/4, Goodrich 1, United Chemical 3/4, Southern Pacific 3/4, U.S. Gypsum 3/4 and Hiram Walker 2 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were irregular on volume of 1,010,000 shares compared with 960,000 on Friday. Gainers included Woodley Petroleum and Humble Oil. Among losers were Standard Oil and Kentucky, A&P and International Petroleum.

364 Signers May Be Called In City Case

Judge Will Hear Testimony July 1

A prospect that some 364 persons whose names appeared on petitions asking a referendum on the city's $500,000 urban development bond issue of 1957 may be summoned into Allegany County Circuit Court at 10 a. m. July 1 was raised yesterday.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris heard arguments yesterday by opposing attorneys in a "friendly" suit which was docketed May 31 by William A. Gunter, 201 Washington Street, against the Mayor and City Council. Mr. Gunter contended that there were sufficient signatures on petitions submitted to the Mayor and City Council to justify a referendum in the $500,000 bond issue.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan informed Judge Harris yesterday that some 4,015 signatures appeared on petitions submitted to the Mayor and City Council April 6. Some 2,548 were needed, or 20 per cent of the registered voters of the city. The city has conceded that only 2,272—or 276 fewer than are needed—are valid signatures.

By Same Person

Among those not accepted were 364 signatures which appeared to have been written by the same person or a series of persons. A number on each of several petitions appeared to be in the same handwriting.

Judge Harris said that he was no handwriting expert, and set 10 a. m. July 1 as the date when testimony will be taken in the case. Mr. Finan suggested that he and Albert A. Doub, who appeared as Mr. Gunter's attorney, might agree on a handwriting expert whose qualifications would not be challenged when the hearing began July 1.

It was then that Mr. Doub raised the point that testimony from the 364 persons themselves might prove more pertinent than the testimony of a handwriting expert. Each could testify whether he had authorized some other person to sign a petition for him or whether he had signed the petition himself.

In their arguments before Judge Harris the two attorneys cited a number of decisions in Maryland and other states which gave conflicting views on the validity of signatures.

Agent May Sign

Mr. Doub said a signature is the act of putting a man's name at the end of a legal document and may be done by a second party acting as agent for the signer. He disputed the city's strict interpretation of the signatures on petitions and ventured an opinion that nine out of ten persons in the City of Cumberland do not know exactly how their name appears on the registration books.

Mr. Finan quoted court decisions which tended to a more strict interpretation on signatures. He cited a 1951 Ohio case which decided that each individual must sign his own name with ink or indelible pencil. He contended that signing a petition is an important function and should not be taken lightly.

After yesterday's session, the city attorney said he expected argument will be heard in a few days in a second "friendly" suit brought against the Mayor and City Council. In this second suit, which was docketed June 4, Owen Hitchens, of The Dingle, through Attorney William C. Walsh and William Walsh, seeks to test the legality of the ordinances passed by the Mayor and City Council to provide for the $500,000 urban development bond issue.

South End Sewer Line Progressing

Street Department crews have completed about three-fourth of the Laing Avenue sewer relocation project, according to Commissioner William H. Buchholtz. The job will include the relocation of about 2,000 feet of sewer line which is affected by the B&O's $13,000,000 yard program. The work is being done by city crews and all costs will be paid by the railroad.

Officials said that by today, all of the line will be in except for the area between Pennsylvania Avenue and Seymour Street.

Real Dairy Farmer Is New Maryland FHA Director

By ALBERT D. DARBY News Staff Writer

The new Farmers Home Administration director for Maryland and Delaware—an honest-to-goodness dairy farmer from Frederick County—made his first official visit to Allegany County yesterday to meet with the county FHA supervisor and two of the three county FHA committeemen.

He is Ray H. Smith, who owns 240 acres and leases another 299 acres of Monocacy River bottom land just southeast of Frederick.

Mr. Smith, who has held the top FHA administrative office in Baltimore only since April 15, is a native of South Dakota. He spent 12 years in the employ of the United States Department of Agriculture in South Dakota, Maryland and the District of Columbia before resigning in 1941 to devote his full time to dairy farming.

A graduate of Iowa State College in Ames, where he received his master's degree in agriculture, he served for two years on the college faculty. Then, in 1929, he returned to South Dakota as manager of a dairy experiment station.

City officials have been receiving complaints about traffic backing up, especially at the Knox and Valley Street Crossings.

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, said motorists have been stopping short of the pads which change the lights.

Drivers, it was explained, should pass over the yellow trip pads and proceed to the white line and wait until the light changes to green.

The lights are controlled by two electrodes, set in concrete about a foot below the surface of the crossing.

The electrodes carry an electric charge which sets up a magnetic field. A car passing over the mechanism breaks the magnetic field and actuates the light.

There are no moving parts in the electric tripping device. The fault, officials said, has not been in the equipment but in the failure to give drivers an indication of when they have gone far enough to trip the light.

The situation is complicated by the fact that there are sidings which serve firms along the main line tracks.

These infrequently used tracks are not a part of the crossing gate signal installation, and are protected by flagmen who stop traffic when a train approaches a crossing.

Drivers must cross these sidings before they drive over the tripper pads.

Five Attending Church Conference

The 171st recorded Annual Conference of the Church of the Brethren convenes this week at Richmond, Va. Among those attending from Living Stone Church of the Brethren in Cumberland is Mrs. Joseph May, Mrs. Leilah Trail, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Shaffer, and Rev. Wayne J. Eberly, pastor of the local church.

The conference, combining business and inspirational meetings, opens with a general session tonight and closes with a church convocation service Sunday afternoon, at which time workers going into full-time Christian service with the church will be consecrated.

Further plans are to be announced at this conference regarding the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the founding of the Church of the Brethren, to take place next year. Originating in Germany in 1708, they were originally called Taulers or Dunkers because of their mode of baptism. The present name, Church of the Brethren, was adopted in 1908.

Offering Box Rifled During Church Service

A bold thief broke into an offering box at St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church Sunday morning as 500 people attended a Holy Communion service in the church.

Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor, said someone apparently used a pair of scissors to break open the choir offering box near the entrance of the building while the service was in progress.

It was uncertain how much money might have been taken, but Pastor Snyder estimated about $1,000 was unattended in the choir box and in the regular offering, which had been moved to the sacristy during the service.

Several men heard the noise of the box being broken open, rushed out and found it empty except for one envelope.

Last winter someone broke in to an offering box at the church and stole about $25.

City Police Detective Thomas J. See was investigating.

Ridgeley Man Is Injured In Cycle Accident

A 41-year-old Ridgeley man was injured in an accident yesterday evening on West Virginia State Route 28 when the motorcycle he was operating sideswiped a truck which he was attempting to pass.

In "fair" condition at Memorial Hospital last night was Ralph M. Brant, who suffered extensive injuries.

He had a compound fracture of his right knee, possible fractured right shoulder and severe abrasions and lacerations.

Mr. Brant was admitted to the hospital about 6:25 p. m.

He was reported to have attempted to pass a truck loaded with chickens when the cycle sideswiped the vehicle, and upset.

West Virginia State Police at Romney said the accident occurred about four miles from Ridgeley.

In a local motorcycle accident yesterday, Dewey Emerick, 22, of 5 Clement Street, was injured when his cycle fell on his left foot.

He sustained a laceration and puncture wound, was treated at Memorial Hospital and was released.

Girl Scouts Approve New UF Contract

Stipulations Added To Fund Agreement

Cumberland Council Girl Scouts board of directors last night approved a revised contract with the United Fund Inc., for one year, effective January 1, 1958, thus becoming one of the first Community Chest organizations to take final action toward disbanding the Chest and launching United Fund.

All nine Red Feather agencies of the Community Chest have contracts with that organization through this year. All have been invited to affiliate with United Fund at the expiration of present agreements.

The Girl Scouts made several reservations in their agreement. While the contract calls for the principle of "one fund-raising campaign for all agencies" each year, the Girl Scout board approved the contract with the stipulation that its annual cookie sale be permitted and that permission be reserved for its own capital fund campaign to develop its newly purchased campsite near Flintstone.

The board also stipulated that the policy of each of the 44 or more Girl Scout Troops of holding one fund-raising activity each year be continued.

The Girl Scout board, by a chain of action on the United Fund affiliation and contract, entered into the agreement only if the stipulations were included.

186 Sign For Camp

Miss Olive Hurlburt, Girl Scout executive director, reported to the board that 186 registrations are on hand for the established camp, and total capacity at the new camp this year is 208. For a limited time, reservations may be made at the Girl Scout House by interested girls, she said.

Considerable work has been done at the new campsite and several hundred persons attended an open house tour there Sunday. This week and next, volunteers will continue their task of getting the camp in complete readiness for the season.

Miss Hurlburt said several volunteer men who can do carpenter work, handy jobs and general repairs and clean-up will be welcome at the camp evenings and weekends.

The board decided to hold its next meeting at the camp on July 15 at 4 p. m.

Expansion Discussed

Among other problems before the board last night was the expansion of the council area and giving service to this larger area. Nine troops in Frostburg, numbering over 200 girls, have been accepted for affiliation with the Cumberland Council under the United Fund plan.

The board agreed that when activities start this fall, the leaders and scouts in Frostburg must be extended field service. Training classes for leaders will be open to the Frostburg people. Their troops will get professional counseling, and programming will be extended to the area. It was also agreed that adult Girl Scouts there should begin receiving bulletins and other regular mailings.

Mrs. George Miller, president, reported that the Celanese Corporation is making available a quantity of firebrick for use at the new camp, and arrangements are being made for transportation.

Theodore Foote reported on the problem of obtaining telephone service at the new campsite, but said further efforts will be made this week to have a telephone installed.

Vacation Bible School Planned

First Evangelical United Brethren Church will conduct a vacation Bible school June 23 through July 3, according to Rev. E. E. Children between the ages of four and 12 may register at the opening session.

The kindergarten class will be taught by Mrs. Homer Carlton, Mrs. Vincent Green and Mrs. Whiting Linaburg.

Mrs. Nellie Nixon will teach the primary department, assisted by Mrs. Betty Sue Wilson, Miss Barbara Valentine and Mrs. Andrea Getz, with Mrs. Thelma Long at the piano.

The junior department will be headed by Mrs. John S. Cook, assisted by Mrs. Paul Getz, Miss Donna Wrightsman, Mrs. Edgar Shoemaker. Mrs. Brady Shantholter will be at the piano.

Workshop, Bible study, stories, handicraft, games and refreshments will be featured in the daily program. If children need transportation parents are asked to call Mrs. Forrest Snider, PA 2-6535 or Mrs. John S. Cook, PA 2-6232.

Heat Wave Relief Is Possible

Possible relief from the heat wave is promised today by the weatherman, in that widely scattered thundershowers are expected this afternoon or this evening.

The official high temperature reading at Constitution Park yesterday afternoon was 91 degrees, one degree lower than Sunday's high for the year. The unofficial low was 67 degrees.

The mercury is expected to soar into the 90s again today.

The weather forecast for today is mostly fair and continued hot and humid, with the chance of a few widely scattered thundershowers this afternoon or evening.

At least two drownings and one death from heat prostration were reported yesterday in Maryland as the temperature reached a record-tying 96 in the sixth day of the heat wave in the state.

The heat victim was identified as Harold C. Hann, elderly resident of downtown Baltimore. His body was found in his second-floor apartment.

The drowning victims were nine-year-old Andre Wilson of Baltimore, whose body was recovered from 30 feet of water in Jones Falls on the outskirts of that city, and Burl M. Hyer, 27-year-old Baltimore man who had been swimming in Chesapeake Bay off a public beach near Edgemere.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the 96 degrees recorded late Sunday afternoon tied a June 17 record set in 1939.

Md. Legislators To Study River Gambling Spots

BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP)—Sen. Louis L. Goldstein (D-Calvert) said today the Maryland Legislative Council's July 3 agenda will include the subject of drinking and gambling establishments in the state's Potomac River waters just off the shores of Virginia.

Goldstein, president of the State Senate and head of the council, indicated the unit will then decide whether a special legislative committee should be set up to study the subject. The council is the between-sessions arms of the Maryland General Assembly.

A special probe of the drink-and-gamble river spots was requested by Gov. McKeldin.

Del. Maurice Cardin (D-Balto 5th) offered to have his House Committee on Intergovernmental Cooperation head the probe. Later the House group met with its Senate counterpart, headed by Sen. Edward S. Northrop (D-Montgomery), and they agreed to ask Goldstein to set them up as a joint subcommittee of the Legislative Council.

McKeldin had called for the investigation after Charles County commissioners turned down his suggestion that they revoke the liquor license of a riverboat to be anchored off Freestone Point, Va.

"I am as much concerned with the moral issue as the governor is," said Goldstein.

Cardin said the House and Senate committees on intergovernmental cooperation were concerned about the effect the Charles County action might have on Maryland's relations with Virginia.

Gov. Stanley of Virginia had expressed hope that the liquor license would not be granted. His state does not allow sales of whisky by the drink, or slot machine operations.

"We think Charles County has stretched things too far by issuing licenses for the convenience of another state."

Besides the riverboat, an old Chesapeake Bay excursion steamer which is being converted into a restaurant and pleasure craft, the county has licensed at least three other drinking establishments off the Virginia Shore. All the others are also licensed for slot machine operations.

'Pennsy' Freight Cars Derail

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., June 17 (AP)—Twenty-eight cars of a 150-car Pennsylvania Railroad freight derailed near here today.

The cars, including three tankers carrying acid, overturned and railroad officials said it would take three days to clear the wreckage. The force of the derailment ripped up about a half mile of double track. No one was injured.

The railroad dispatched wreck crews from Enola and Hagerstown, Md., to begin clearing the area. In the meantime, traffic on the railroad's Cumberland Valley branch line will be rerouted between Shippensburg and Hagerstown on tracks of the Western Maryland Railway Co.

The cause of the derailment was not known, and there was no damage estimate.

One Withdraws From LaVale Zoning Vote

Robertson Steps Out Of Contest

James E. Robertson of Dressman's Addition, one of the six qualified candidates for the three positions on the proposed LaVale Zoning Board being voted upon today at the LaVale Fire Hall, had to withdraw from the race yesterday for "personal reasons."

Earl E. Manges, president of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, reported that Mr. Robertson notified him of his withdrawal yesterday afternoon.

The election board president said it was too late then to block Mr. Robertson's name off the four voting machines being used today. In addition, the law makes no provision for withdrawal before the election anyway so that an attempt to block him out probably would invalidate the election.

"Would Like To Serve"

Mr. Robertson, who is district manager of Social Security here, and the election board are "campaigning" to keep citizens of Election District 29 from voting for him.

"I would like to serve the community and will be very happy to do so in some other capacity, but I will be unable to serve on the zoning board," Mr. Robertson explained.

His withdrawal leaves Leslie J. Clark, C. Arthur Lancaster, John J. Rowan, Charles A. Smith and W. William Yoder as the five active candidates in the race.

Some 2,300 qualified voters of Election District 29, except that portion in the Cresaptown Special Taxing Area, are eligible to vote today between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. at the LaVale Fire Hall.

2 Questions

They first will decide whether they want zoning as provided in Senate Bill 438, introduced by State Senator Charles M. See and passed by the General Assembly last winter. They also will elect a three-man zoning board to administer the act if zoning is approved.

The LaVale Civic Improvement Association, which Gilbert P. Bohn serves as president, is busy with a campaign to insure a representative vote today. An automobile equipped with public address system will travel around the entire suburban community urging a heavy vote on the zoning measure. Transportation to the LaVale Fire Hall also will be provided.

Boy Scouts of the community distributed circulars to the homes in LaVale Saturday urging a sizeable vote.

Briefing Set On New Sport

The Recreation Department this week will brief members of the playground staff on baseball, one of the new activities which will be offered during the playground season which opens Monday.

The instruction on the game will be offered during the annual leadership institute which opens tomorrow.

The game, according to Mrs. Eva Hogan, general playground supervisor, is played with a ball attached to an anchor block by a rubber band. Rackets similar to those used in table tennis complete the equipment.

She said the game can be played almost anywhere, since it requires little space.

The game, she reported, has been used at York, Pa., for a number of years and has proved to be very popular.

Maryland Scientists Obtain Fellowships

Three Maryland residents are among 20 young scientists who have been awarded the first 1957 March of Dimes postdoctoral fellowships for research and teaching, according to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Including compensation to the training institution together with stipends for living expenses, the new awards involve $195,820 in March of Dimes funds.

The Marylanders, all from Baltimore, got their awards for study at Johns Hopkins University. They are Dr. Saul W. Brustlow, 1930 McElderry Street, for study in the Department of Pediatrics; Dr. Sidney W. Klein, 455 South Angelsea Street, and Elliott Robbins, 1023 North Broadway.
